BELFAST GOVERNMENT SCHOOL OF ART.

SPECIAL LOCAL PRIZES, CHRISTMAS, 1871.

To induce the pupils to apply themselves heartily to the prescribed course of training necessary to attain a knowledge of the Arts of Drawing and Design, and to encourage them in those habits of industry without which the best abilities are often valueless, the Committee of Management, on behalf of those interested in the promotion of Art in relation to manufacture, intend, at the close of the present year, to give prizes, as on annexed list, for Drawing in its various branches as taught in the School, and for Designs suited to the requirements of local industries.

It is intended, in awarding these prizes, to have regard to regular attendance, coupled with proficiency, as the proof of the steadiest industry and best attainments. The greater number of prizes will of course be given for such work as is taught in the School, and thus more clearly test the proficiency of the pupils and exhibit the results of teaching.

The Art of Design, owing to the short time the School has been in existence, cannot be expected as yet to be highly developed in the students, and, except to a few who come sufficiently advanced, will be altogether out of the reach of the majority. The main body of the students, however, who are as yet learning the A B C of the art, will be encouraged by prizes in that department in which they are acquiring knowledge, and in which alone they are capable of exhibiting it.

In future years a rich harvest may be expected from the fertilizing influences now imbibed, and which will be sure to exert an elevating influence upon Art in this great centre of manufacturing industries, where there is such a field for its development.

The Board of Managers of the Belfast School of Art, agreeably to a resolution passed at a special meeting held on the 19th May, decided upon the annexed list of local prizes, to be awarded at Christmas, 1871.

In addition to the local prizes here offered, pupils are entitled to compete for Studentships, Scholarships, Medals, and other Prizes given by the Science and Art Department, South Kensington; lists of which, and all information relating thereto, may be had from the Secretary, or the Head Master, at the School.

The School is abundantly supplied with the best Copies and Examples, in outline, shade, and colour. It contains a Sculpture Gallery, well furnished with casts from the antique, &c., and a Library of valuable works on art, architecture, and design, to which the students have full access.

The Belfast Government School of Art is now in full operation, no effort and expense having been spared to render it one of the best in the kingdom. By the instruction it affords, it is hoped that much latent talent will be elicited and developed. There is scarcely any occupation or industry in which a knowledge of Drawing is not useful ; to many it is indispensable ; and a workman possessing it is certain to find it a means of increased and more remunerative employment.

A separate Class-room, with Cloak-room, is provided for ladies.
